British Armor is Mopping Up Cap Bon

END OF AIR BATTLE OVER TUNISIA NEAR

Allied Bombings Reported Halted Because of the Danger of Hitting Friendly Troops

CAPTURES MOUNTING

BY EDWARD KENNEDY
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 12—(P)—German resistance has melted away on the peninsula to its tip, is stabbing inland and rounding up tens of thousands of freely surrendering enemy troops, front line dispatches said today.

Only one center of Axis fighting spirit existed in all North Africa today, and that was a 13-mile wide circular area southwest of the peninsula where Allied armor, troops and planes were attacking from all sides.

Streams of meek Germans, driving their own trucks, moved bumper to bumper in miles-long lines from dusty Cap Bon toward prison cages in the rear, the front line accounts of Associated Press correspondent Daniel de Luce said. The Germans had made no real attempt to hold the Cape, he said, and threw up their arms and raised white flags in ready token of surrender without even attempting an Axis Dunkerque when a single squadron of British armored cars reached Cap Bon lighthouse at 3 p. m. yesterday.

So thoroughly had the patrols of Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson infiltrated into Cap Bon Peninsula that Allied air bombing has been halted because of the danger of hitting friendly troops.

The Germans and Italians southwest of the Peninsula were hemmed in a circular area only about 15 miles across, and this was being given severe punishment by the air forces as well as by the troops, but the communiqué said "the lack of suitable targets indicated the approaching end of the air battle over Tunisia."

While many Germans were still at large on Cap Bon's inland mountains, they were mostly service personnel not much interested in fighting.

The total of prisoners was expected to pass the 100,000 mark. The completed count in the area of the second U. S. Army corps showed the Americans, French Free Corps and Moroccan Goumiers had taken 37,988 prisoners, of whom 33,498 were Germans.

(The Italian communiqué said Gen. Giovanni Messe, commander of the First Italian Army in Cap Bon, who is reported to have been left as commander of all Axis forces in Tunisia as well, had rejected a demand for surrender by Lieut. Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, New Zealand commander.)

The Germans and Italians were offering considerable resistance, however, in the mountains west of Bou Fichta and north of Enfidaville. They had been wedged off from Cap Bon by British armor driving south from Tunis which had reached Bou Fichta on the coastal road, 11 miles southwest of Hammamet on the peninsula and 15 miles north of Enfidaville.

This circle was being hammered on the north as well by British troops at Ste. Marie Du Zit, 12 miles northwest of Bou Fichta; on the west by Algerians and Moroccan divisions of Gen. Henri

Retail Ceiling Prices For Meats Fixed For This Area

Represents Reduction Of One to Three Cents from Former Levels

ANOTHER CUT COMING

Pittsburgh, May 12—(P)—New retail cents-per-pound ceiling prices for beef, veal, mutton and lamb, effective next Monday in Zone 7 north, including 16 western Pennsylvania counties, were announced today by the OPA.

The ceilings generally represent a reduction of one to three cents a pound from retail ceilings originally scheduled to go into effect April 15 but withdrawn in the face of the president's "hold the line" order.

The new prices will be reduced further—by about 10 per cent—on June 1 under a recently-announced plan for the payment of government subsidies to processors.

The present order divides retailers into two classes—independent stores with less than $250,000 annual volume and all other retailers.

Price ceilings are on a zone basis, each zone covering a substantial area, generally including several important cities. Prices vary somewhat from zone to zone, but the difference generally is small.

Some representative prices for the smaller stores in western Pennsylvania:

Beef: Grade A flank steak, 44 cents; Grade A sirloin (boneless) 57; Grade A porterhouse, 60; grade D flank, 32; grade D sirloin (boneless) 39; grade D porterhouse, 41; Grade A rump roasts (gone in) 31; Grade D 19; grade A round tip roasts 50, grade D 33; soup bone 31; boneless brisket, grade D, 31; plate (bone in) 20-24; ground beef 32.

Veal: Loin chops choice 54, cut 37; leg roasts choice 39, cut 27; shoulder roasts (bone in, square cut) choice 32, cut 22; kidneys 34.

Lamb and mutton: Loin chops choice 68, cuts 34; leg roasts choice 44, cuts 24; chuck or

SOVIET BATTLE LINE SURGES WITH ACTIVITY

More Than Thousand German Troops Killed On Leningrad Front In 24 Hours

REDS HOLD INITIATIVE

BY EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, May 12—(P)—More than 1,000 German troops have been killed on the Leningrad front in the last 24 hours, Russian dispatches said today, as the entire battle line surged with new activity from that northern sector to the continuing struggle around Novorossiysk, on the Black Sea.

The action before Leningrad, whose 514-day siege was broken in mid-January, appeared to be only a scouting operation in force, intended to establish a new German sector line and not the beginning of an out-and-out offensive. The German attempts failed after two attacks.

Russian guns opened up after the assaults and have pounded and damaged the German positions since it was said.

The Red Army generally held the initiative everywhere along the line, and the government news-paper Pravda said editorially "the war with Hitlerite Germany has entered its decisive phase."

The battle for Novorossiysk apparently had resolved itself into a Russian attempt to pulverize the German positions with air attacks, sustained artillery fire and infantry sorties.

The midnight communiqué said 56 enemy planes were destroyed in the area yesterday against a loss of 11 Soviet planes.

In the lower Kuban valley, a German fortified key position was reported captured and a company of German troops killed.

Resumption of German attacks on the Russian Donets river positions near Lisichansk, gateway to Voroshilovgrad, was reported. Three waves of Nazi tank and infantry assaults were beaten off, 13 enemy tanks knocked out and about 800 Germans killed in the last 24 hours, it was said.

Red army fliers pounded German supply and communication centers at Bryansk and Orel, and bombers ranged as far west as Kiev to punish the foe.

CHIEF DEPUTY CORONER IN ERIE COUNTY DIES

Erie, May 12—(P)—Frank St. George, 49, chief deputy coroner of Erie county for the past year, died last night of an abdominal ailment. He was taken ill Monday.

Native of Buffalo, N. Y., St. George came to Erie in 1920, a year after he was granted a license to practice embalming in Pennsylvania. A graduate of the Reward School of Embalming, he served with the Medical Corps during World War I as a surgical assistant.

Meanwhile Representative Gavin (R-Pa.) said he had asked Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown to ignore recommendations of "wonderland impractical theorists" in his department and grant a 50-cents-a-barrel increase in the price of crude oil "without further hesitancy."

Gavin made public a letter to Brown declaring that Sumner T. Pike, temporary head of the

China's "Rice Bowl" Facing A New Threat

Potential Danger to Capital of Hunan Province Graver

JAPS HAVE Foothold

By the Associated Press
A new threat to China's "rice bowl," heightening clashes on the New Guinea front and patrol skirmishes in Burma marked the Far Pacific war today.

Chungking dispatches said the potential danger to Changsha, capital of rice-yielding Hunan Province, had become graver as Japanese invasion columns gained a foothold on the southern shore of Lake Tungting only 50 miles away.

Previous Japanese landing attempts had been snuffed, the Chinese said, but the enemy finally secured a beachhead.

In the Southwest Pacific, dispatches from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said heavier fighting indicated a possible renewal of the Allied offensive against Salamaua, New Guinea, which subsided in January after the Allied conquest of the Papuan Peninsula.

"Intensified clashes are occurring between small advanced ground elements in the green hills area" of Mubo, 12 miles south of Salamaua, a communiqué said. Japanese raiders, in their third straight day of small-scale attacks, sent nine bombers against the Allied base at Merauke, on the south coast of Dutch New Guinea, while U. S. Flying Fortresses left huge fires raging in an assault on the enemy airbase at Rabaul, New Britain.

On the Burma front, British headquarters reported only patrol activity as the Japanese apparently took time out to consolidate their newly-won position on the Butheung-Maungdaw road 60 miles north of Akyab.

SLAUGHTER LICENSE REVOKED IN MERCER

Pittsburgh, May 12—(P)—The Department of Agriculture's drive against unsanitary meat slaughterhouses in western Pennsylvania has resulted in the suspension of two licenses in Mercer county, William M. Walsh, district representative of the department, announced.

Walsh said the licenses were those of Frank Novak and J. L. Nathan, both of Farrell, who have been charged with killing animals in slaughterhouses condemned by inspectors.

The official said investigators are intensively checking the holders of 2,225 slaughtering permits in 28 counties. He pointed out that prior to April 1, when the meat rationing program began, the same area had less than 600 such licensed places.

Wagner Is Replaced On Liquor Board

Harrisburg, May 12—(P)—Governor Martin today announced the resignation of W. Worell Wagner as a member of the Liquor Control Board and appointed W. Seagrath Stuart, Cumberland county Republican leader, to the $10,000 post.

"Mr. Stuart is a man who appreciates that an official position is a public trust," declared the governor in a statement.

Martin said that Stuart was given a six-year term effective immediately. Martin said that Frederick T. Gelder, serving a term expiring November 29, continues as chairman of the Liquor Board, Wagner was appointed in 1934 for a two-year term, and was reappointed in 1936 for six years. His term expired last March but he has continued serving despite serious illness pending appointment of his successor.

Stuart's appointment still leaves one vacancy on the Liquor Board. Asked at a press conference if he would appoint a member of the Democratic minority on the board, Martin commented: "I don't know. In my considered opinion I've considered Democrats but that doesn't mean

TAX BILL IS TRANSFORMED IN COMMITTEE

Measure Is Greatly Altered During Speedy Trip Through Finance Group

IS READY FOR DEBATE

Washington, May 12—(P)—In a majority report on the revised Ruml-Carlson "skip a year" revenue bill, the senate finance committee said today that if a "pay-as-you-go" measure is adopted by congress it will become "unnecessary to pass retroactive increased tax legislation which has resulted in so much uncertainty and inequity in the past."

Formally reporting the bill to the senate for the start of debate today, the committee noted there was no disagreement in its ranks as to the method of placing taxpayers on a current basis.

"The only difference that developed in the committee was as to the treatment of the tax on 1942 income," the report said.

The house passed its bill only a week ago yesterday and the finance committee got the measure Thursday. Just three sessions were enough for the majority to substitute, by a 13 to 8 vote, its favored version, that version came in for criticism as "legislative legerdemain" yesterday by Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) in an individual minority report.

The committee chairman, Senator George (D-Ga.), opposed the full year's abatement provision, but said he would manage the bill on the floor, reserving the right to oppose the portion he did not like.

In fact, George told a press conference late yesterday he might offer a substitute section calling for cancellation of a flat 75 per cent for all taxpayers, with the un-abated 25 per cent to be paid in 1944 and 1945.

He said this would bring in more revenue, possibly eliminate the necessity for increased rates later this year, and in his opinion, impose a not impossible burden on the taxpayers.

PILOT LOSES LIFE WHEN BOMBER FALLS

Shreveport, La., May 12—(P)—The pilot was fatally injured, but six other crew members parachuted to safety when a medium bomber on a routine flight from Eadsfield Field crashed and burned two miles southwest of here yesterday.

The field public relations office withheld the name of the pilot pending notification of relatives.

Deliveries To Be Cut By The South Penn Oil

Pittsburgh, May 12—(P)—Announcement of the South Penn Oil Company, largest supplier of Pennsylvania Grade Crude, that deliveries would be cut 15 per cent on July 1, June 1 and 20 per cent on July 1, based upon May deliveries, brought an immediate charge from oil men that the "near-sighted policy of the OPA" was responsible for the decreased output.

Ralph T. Zook of Bradford, vice chairman of the production committee for District 1, spoke for oil operators in a statement making the "near-sighted policy" charge and asserting the resulting drop in production bore out predictions by the oil industry made as early as the fall of 1941.

"The situation in the Pennsylvania grade area parallels the Mid-Continent where crude supplies to refiners have been reduced 100,000 barrels daily because of a shortage of oil," said Zook. "Unless drastic corrective steps are taken, it will be a short time until there will be a national crude shortage which at the best, will be most harmful and may be fatal to our war program."

"We should go to Washington en masse and stay there until we get action, whether it be thirty, sixty or ninety days," Zook told the oil men, "This is a real fight."

Next Blow Against Axis Believed Main Item Of Discussion

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, May 12—(P)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are holding another council of war today with the trumpets of the Tunisian victory still sounding and the Allies poised to pound the Axis in both Europe and the Pacific.

The commuting British chieftain arrived last night on his third wartime trip to Washington, accompanied by a staff of military and naval experts.

As he and Mr. Roosevelt sat down to bring the enemy still closer to their "unconditional surrender" demands, the Tunisian success swept offensive strategy to a point where the United Nations high command could start activating plans for the next blow—plans undoubtedly blocked out at previous meetings between the two leaders and discussed to be perfected and extended, due to be perfected and extended.

Across the sea, Hitler suddenly shifted his headquarters from the east to the west, according to the German radio, and doubtless wondered when the blow or blows would fall.

With no White House comment forthcoming as to the specific nature of the Washington discussions, speculation ran free, informed persons here saw no reason to believe, however, that previously-laid strategy would be shifted—for instance, to provide for concentrating against Japan rather than Germany.

The expectation was rather that talks based on the situation surrounding the European invasion would be political rather than military, since the problems of the peace constantly nearer as Allied armies advance.

Informed London observers, on the other hand, said flatly that war strategy was the prime purpose of the conference although conceding political problems involved in the invasion plans undoubtedly were being discussed, as well as coordination of Russian and other Allied moves.

In connection with the internal European moves, it was noted that President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia was due to arrive in Washington late today, also for conferences with Mr. Roosevelt. Head of the London-harbored republic which Hitler dismembered, Benes was expected to present his plans for a postwar federation of central and eastern Europe, friendly to Soviet Russia.

Also on the scene, although not as a member of the official party from England, is Lord Beaverbrook, London publisher and former British Cabinet member.

In any case, the background for the discussions is certain to be military, and the pattern of future operations appears to call for (1) a supreme attempt to crack Hitler's "European fortress" wide open this summer and (2) an offensive against Japan employing the most powerful forces yet thrown into Pacific fighting.

Military experts emphasized that the cleanup of North Africa was a major contribution to projected operations in the Pacific as well as in Europe. Final conquest of Africa's Mediterranean coast line, it was said, will reopen the Mediterranean to United Nations shipping, cutting the distance from American east coast ports to the Middle East, southern Russia and India by about 5,000 miles.

The time saved on the shorter run equals hundreds of thousands of new tons of shipping space.

Informed but unofficial opinion here is that one of the first major Pacific strokes may be an American sea-air drive to throw the Japanese off Kiska and Attu islands at the western tip of the Aleutians.

ARTIST IS KILLED
Philadelphia, May 12—(P)—Hugh J. Deeney, 41, Philadelphia artist who drew the comic strip "Dizzy Dramas" under the name Joe Bowers, was killed accidentally yesterday on the rifle range of Camp Blanding, Fla., the war department notified his family.

Ralph T. Zook of Bradford, vice chairman of the production committee for District 1, spoke for oil operators in a statement making the "near-sighted policy" charge and asserting the resulting drop in production bore out predictions by the oil industry made as early as the fall of 1941.

Parley May Place Emphasis On Strategy Against Japan

Washington, May 12—(P)—A White House disclosure today that Prime Minister Churchill had brought with him three important operations provided indications that the prime minister and President Roosevelt might place much emphasis in their conferences on strategy against Japan.

In the Churchill party were: Field Marshal Sir A. F. Wavell, commander in chief of British military forces in India; Admiral Sir James Somerville, commander in chief of the eastern fleet based at Ceylon; and Air Chief Marshal Sir Richard Vaisey, air officer commander in chief in India.

Their presence here for important war talks lent weight to the possibility that Britain and the United States might be charting new moves to assist China, perhaps by attempting to pry open the Burma road again for a vital supply artery. President Roosevelt has promised that China will be used as a base for attacks on Japan itself.

White House officials said that no American officers from the Indian army, insofar as they know, have been brought to Washington for the parleys.

Associated Press Bulletins

Harrisburg, May 12—(P)—Governor Martin today signed a bill contributing $1,185,000 bi-annually to police pension funds throughout the state.

Philadelphia, May 12—(P)—The state supreme court, in a case it termed "of great importance," ruled 5 to 2 today that government-owned machinery leased to manufacturing concerns engaged in war work is subject to county real estate taxes in Pennsylvania under a 1933 state law.

Harrisburg, May 12—(P)—The U. S. Employment Service today reported 40 conscientious objectors to military service had been placed on Pennsylvania dairy farms, with an additional 20 expected to be assigned to the state within the next week.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 12—(P)—Col. Elliott Roosevelt, flying son of President Roosevelt, now wears the air medal in addition to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

London, May 12—(P)—The Royal Air Force, which is reported to have bombed Naples' volcanic Mount Vesuvius by accident in 1940, is studying the possible effects of such a bombing by design, it was disclosed in the house of commons today.

Many Grieve Over Passing Of Mrs. Cray

The death of Mrs. Horace A. Cray at 4:20 a. m. today at the family home at 505 Market street comes as a severe shock to the community, where she was widely known as a member of pioneer families and active in a great many civic and social circles.

She had been ill only a few weeks and not critically so until a couple of days ago.

Elizabeth Moorhead Cray was born here October 30, 1874, the daughter of Charles W. and Elizabeth Moorhead Stone. She made her debut in Washington, D. C. when her father was serving in Congress and attended Mt. Vernon Seminary in that city, later attending The Woman's College in Baltimore, Md.

She had long been active in affairs of the Woman's Club of Warren and in the Second Auxiliary Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her husband, Horace Allen Cray, to whom she was married on January 8, 1902; also by two sisters and one brother: Mrs. W. H. Allen, Mrs. George L. Craft and John L. Stone, all of Warren, together with a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted from the family home at three o'clock Friday afternoon by Dr. H. C. Warren and interment will be in Oakland cemetery. Friends are asked to kindly omit flowers.

Association Of Teachers Holds Meeting

At a meeting of the executive council of the Warren Borough Teachers' Association, held in the high school building at 4:10 p. m. Tuesday, the following building representatives were named for the coming school year:

East and Seneca, Lula Boyd; South, Marguerite Fleming; Home, Frances Grosch; Johnson, Grace Bell; Lacy, Mame Marsh; McClintock, Margaret Ingham; Beaty, Mrs. Gerda Lawrence; high school, Milton Kopp.

The slate of officers for the coming year was presented, also the election to be held in conjunction with the regular meeting of the teachers' association on Tuesday, May 18, at 4 p. m. at the high school.

Also a feature of that meeting will be a review of Van Loon's "Lives," given by Mrs. D. O. May, of Russell.

OIL OPERATOR DIES

Joseph W. Rodenbaugh, 83, of Rousseville, a retired oil operator, died yesterday in the Oil City Hospital. He had been ill for three weeks.

S. F. OF A. TO MEET

The S. F. of A. lodge will meet in the hall Friday evening at eight o'clock and all members are urged to attend.

CLARENDON MEETING

Marshall Larson Post No. 314, VFW, at Clarendon, will hold a meeting Thursday evening in the Post rooms and it is desired that all members be present.

FEDERATION TO MEET

The next regular monthly meeting of the Warren County Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations will be held at the Veterans Club on Thursday, May 13th, at 8 o'clock.

CARLOAD OF STEERS

Warren county farmers added to their stock this week when a carload of fine steers was unloaded. The steers will be fed on county farms during the summer months and slaughtered next fall to augment the farmer's meat supply.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS HERE

Four shipments of government wheat for feeding purposes have been received in this county. This bushels sold by the government. Two and one-half million bushels were sent into Pennsylvania.

BOASTS FINE WHEAT

Sheriff "Bill" Stuart, who combines farming with his sheriffing boasts that he has the "best seven acres of wheat" in the county. That other sterling Court House farmer, Orris Loper, has a field of wheat, too, but he just smiles knowingly when Stuart boasts and lets all know that the sacks filled by the threshers are what count.

SEED POTATOES ARRIVE

A carload of seed potatoes was placed on the Smith-Horton siding last evening and all who have suffered loss of seed due to the wet weather or who desire to plant more potatoes are advised to apply there. The local firm was fortunate in being able to secure these potatoes and farmers can secure the seed by prompt action.

WILL MEET SATURDAY

The Warren Electric Cooperative will hold its annual meeting in the Youngsville High School building. Directors will be elected and a general discussion on the operation of the cooperative will take place. It is to be hoped that every member will be present as recent rulings on cooperatives will be taken up.

POWER INCREASED

Under an order issued yesterday by the OPA the power of local rationing boards to revoke rations of gasoline to motorists and other users was increased "to ensure fair and efficient enforcement" of regulations. The OPA emphasized that any ration holder threatened with the loss of all, or part of his rations must receive a public hearing on request.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Because of a misunderstanding there will be no skating at the State Armory this evening, as stated in Tuesday's issue. However, there will be skating Thursday night, Saturday afternoon and night as well as Sunday night. Further announcement will be made regarding Wednesday night skating.

LED KEYSTONE DIVISION

Attention has been called to the fact that Major Gen. Omar N. Bradley who led the American forces into Elzerte and set the terms of "unconditional surrender" for the Germans in that area was commanding officer of the 28th Division until recently. He led the Keystone Division to Camp Livingston and thence to Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., and was taken from there to North Africa.

STREAM IS RISING

The almost constant rains of the past few days have caused the streams of the county to become almost bank full. The river has risen but two inches since yesterday when it stood at 7 ft. 4 in. and today it shows seven and one-half feet. No danger is anticipated from high water. However the ground is well soaked and the run off would be rapid if there should be a long continued heavy downpour. Lowlands in many portions of the county are covered and in plowed fields the water is standing in large pools.

NEWS SPREAD AFAR

News of the offering of a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body of Little Richard Kline has been spread far and near. Newspapers the length of the Allegheny Valley have carried the news of the offer and a keen watch is being kept at down river points. The fact that the river has been high since the sad accident which took the child's life has deterred many from making search along the stream but with the falling of the water in the stream scores will make search.

PRICE CEILINGS SET

Will have next Monday the OPA will have price ceilings in dollars and cents fixed for practically all meats. Meats of the same type must bear the same price in each of the 12 price areas into which the country is divided. Warren county is in Zone 7 North, of the Pittsburgh area. The list of prices to govern has been released for publication today but due to the great length of the tables and mechanical inability to put them into type precludes their publication unless they are received in mat form from the OPA this week.

Unveiling of Numerals Proves Interesting Ceremony at The Metzger-Wright Store Tues.

First Floor Buyers

Miss Betty Anderson, buyer of linens, yard goods, domestics, and notions was this year's choice as the Honor Club member.

Claude Landers, buyer of shoes, says that this year with rationing he knows his customers will be interested in the better shoes.

William Lord, buyer of accessories and men's wear, expects a great sale as he has some big values in each department.

The ceremony of the unveiling of the numerals which signals the opening of the annual Anniversary Sale of Metzger-Wright's took place Tuesday afternoon on the fourth floor of the store during the assembly of all workers.

This year the time of the 47th anniversary of that store the one honored by being chosen as the person to unveil the numerals was Miss Betty Anderson.

When the two stores, the Metzger-Wright Company and the C. H. Smith Company merged Miss Anderson, who had been working for the C. H. Smith Company became one of the valued employees of the Smith, Metzger-Wright Company and when that store was bought out, stayed on with the Metzger-Wright Company.

Back in 1906 when Miss Anderson first entered the retail business, she was placed in the linen department, shortly going to the notions where she stayed several years, then to the glove department and then to the silk department. In those days there were no synthetics but only pure silk. On Oct. 15, 1929 she took charge as buyer of linens, domestics, yard goods, and notions which position she still holds.

Plans Made For Funeral Of Mrs. Davis

Mrs. Emma Davis, superintendent of the Watson Memorial Home, passed away at the Warren General Hospital at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday after a short illness.

Funeral services in her memory will be held from the Lutz Funeral Home at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, conducted by Dr. J. H. Clemens and followed by interment in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Davis has been connected with the Home ever since it was opened, first as assistant superintendent and later as superintendent. Through the years she gave to it a loyal and sincere devotion and her ability, efficiency, cheerfulness and sympathetic understanding greatly endeared her to all who knew her.

The guests in the home and the board of directors fully realize the loss they have sustained and their hearts are saddened at her passing.

"Y" Directors Are Chosen At Election

Four Directors were elected and a new constitution was adopted as results of the annual election of Directors and the Annual Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Warren held last evening. The annual meeting was opened with the reading of the scriptures and prayer, by Harold L. Banghart.

Herbert G. Eaton, Maurice R. Emery and Warren M. Stone were re-elected to the Board of Directors, and Harold S. Hampson was elected as a new member of that body. Howard Alexander, chairman of tellers, announced the results of the election, the balloting for which had closed at 7:30 o'clock, to the annual meeting.

Mr. Eaton, as the acting president, gave a comprehensive report of the status and activities of the Association during the fiscal year which closed April 30. The report showed that, despite numerous changes and problems which had beset the Association in the past year, a qualitative and varied program of character and health education had been successfully conducted, and that the business phase of the enterprise had been well handled.

In behalf of the Constitution Committee, W. E. Yeager proposed that a completely re-drawn constitution be considered because the committee had found so many revisions necessary in order to bring the old document up to date. The members present moved that such be done, whereupon Mr. Yeager read the proposed constitution as drafted by the committee and approved by the directors. This constitution was found to be acceptable and was formally adopted, effective at once.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board will be held on June 10, when the annual election of officers will be held.

TIMES TOPICS

NEW PRICE CONTROLS

Slacks, slacks suits, blouses and infants' apparel shortly will be placed under definite price control, the district OPA office at Pittsburgh has announced. Dealers may not purchase higher priced lines than those sold during the fall and winter of 1942, the announcement added.

CIVIL AIR PATROL CADETS

The Civil Air Patrol Cadets will meet this evening at Room 107, in the high school building, at seven o'clock instead of the State Armory as usual. Lt. Victor VerMilyea, of North Warren, will instruct the class on chemical warfare. All cadets are requested to be present with pencil and notebook.

ENSIGN REPORTING

Ensign John W. Lutz, USNR, and Mrs. Lutz have arrived from Baltimore, Md., for a few days visit with their families before the officer leaves for basic training in Philadelphia. Ensign Lutz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lutz 125 Biddle street, and his wife is the former Mrs. Ellen Ostergard, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Ostergard, Central avenue.

WILL VISIT WARREN

Jamestown next week will entertain a convention of Fire Chiefs that promises to be one of the most important gatherings ever held in Jamestown. Fire chiefs from many cities will attend and the discussions and instruction classes will be devoted to war work. On Tuesday a demonstration will be staged of the high pressure and foam truck of the Warren Fire Department. It is one of the finest equipped trucks of the kind in the country and is admirably suited for the purpose for which it is designed. On a later day in the week a large number of the fire chiefs will be brought

V. F. W. OFFICIAL DIES

Benjamin Ralsky, 51, of Bradford, a former state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, well known to many Warren citizens, dropped dead last night in the B. and O. railroad station at Pittsburgh a few minutes after he arrived for a visit to the Veterans Hospital at Aspinwall. Ralsky's health had been failing for some time. He served in the army in World War I, and had been liaison officer for the Veterans in northwestern counties. He was commander of the Bradford Post of the VFW, a former deputy sheriff of McKean county and former trustee of the Soldiers' Orphans School. He served as VFW state commander in 1932.

Massachusetts was the last of the 13 original states to adopt a written constitution.

CHURCHILL'S VISIT

As viewed by DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst, "Prime Minister Churchill's arrival in Washington is a further stimulating exhibition of that friendly Allied co-operation and co-ordination of effort which made the great Tunisian victory possible."

It's the Axis debacle in North Africa, of course, which has brought England's great man across the Atlantic again. That has opened the flood-gate of possibilities for direct assault on Hitler's European fortress—or what he hopes is a fortress. It also may ease the way for extension of activities against the Japs.

There has been no indication of what line the Washington conference might take. It would be surprising, however, if the fundamental strategy of knocking out Hitler first should be abandoned in favor of shifting to the Orient.

We now have Herr Hitler in serious difficulties as the result of the policy of concentration. We achieved success in Tunisia by hitting the weakened Axis forces ceaselessly and furiously at many points simultaneously. Whether we are in position to apply these methods to the all highest on the continent is something which will be determined at Washington in consultation with Moscow, but it may easily be the conferees will decide that the time to catch a June bug is when he's on his back.

In any event, intensification of operations against the arch gangster wouldn't preclude extension of activities against the Japanese. Allied production has reached huge proportions, and the reclamation of the Mediterranean zone with its invaluable shipping routes has eased the situation so that doubtless more help can be sent to General MacArthur.

This is a far different occasion from the first meeting of these two great figures in August of 1941 when they held their historic Atlantic conference. That was less than two months after Germany struck at Russia with all the power of the mightiest fighting machine ever constructed.

The Germans were sweeping all before them, and the master Hun's hoarse cries of triumph were ringing round the world. Those were days of grim anxiety for the Allies, though never of despair.

WAR VETERANS' MEMORIAL

Many in this section will be interested in the item on page eight of Tuesday's issue calling attention to the annual memorial service next Sunday of the Society of the 28th Division, which will be held at Boalsburg, Centre county, next Sunday.

A Department of Commerce announcement states at the ceremonies, dedicated to the 2,874 members of the Division who lost their lives in the last war, will begin at two o'clock.

The Shrine of the 28th Division is situated in a wooded grove at Boalsburg, four miles east of State College. The altar of the shrine was erected to the Colonel Theodore David Boal, who personally undied this memorial and who at great expense, shipped from the battlefields of France trophies captured by members of the Division.

Governor Edward Martin was an officer of the 28th Division during World War I and was in charge of organizing the Division in the beginning of the present war.

LEARNING THE HARD WAY

(An editorial from Bournemouth, England)

"We have been a pleasure-loving people, dishonoring d's day, picnicking and bathing—now the seashore is barred."

"We have preferred motor travel to church going—now there is a shortage of motor fuel."

"We have ignored the ringing of the church bells—now the bells do not ring except to warn us of invasion."

"We have left the churches half empty when they would have been filled with worshippers—now they are ruins."

"We would not listen to the way of peace—now we are forced to listen to the way of war."

"The money we would not give to the Lord's work—now it is taken from us in taxes and higher prices."

"The food for which we forgot to say 'thanks'—is obtainable."

"The service we refused to give to God—now is scripted for our country."

"Lives we refused to live under God's control—now under the nation's control."

"Nights we would not spend in 'watching unto ver'—now are spent in anxious air-raid precautions."

THINK OF THESE THINGS!

'Anybody Smell Something Burning'

It Happened In WARREN--47 YEARS AGO

This is the SIXTH of a series of pictures of Warren in 1896 when life was more leisurely, entertainment more naive, and names-in-the-news recall the happy times of an earlier generation.

(From the New York World) A steam boiler believed to be the largest in the world was constructed by Struthers-Wells Co. of Warren, Pa., at a cost of $12,000, and another $1,000 to transport it to the New York Steam Heating Co., at 59 Day street. The front of two stories of the building had to be torn down to get in the boiler (50 feet long, 40 feet wide, weighing 119,000 lbs. and generating 1,000 horse power).

Glenn Lott and his sister Mrs. Dr. Cowden of North Warren left for Oberlin, Ohio Saturday to see Geo. Lott graduate from Oberlin college.

It really needs a rare devotion to good form to keep one's gloves on these sticky days.

Smart, Silberberg and Metzger advertise: "Tis not so much how much you pay—'Tis what you get for what you pay." It continues, "Ladies' separate skirts, in the new full-flare effects, lined throughout in figured black Brillantine, $1.98."

—sounds pretty warm, too, for those "sticky" days.

A pug dog, once so popular, is now seldom seen.

D. H. Siggins left today for a point 12 miles down the river where he will pilot a raft to Pittsburgh.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and neuralgia cures in one to three days. It's action upon the system is miraculous and mysterious, 75c—Sold by Morris and Mullen, Druggists, Warren.

—very, very mysterious.

An envelope social and banquet will be given by the Christian Endeavor society of The Baptist Church Thursday evening, 10c.

—no need of price ceiling here.

Fred Jackson and H. M. Putnam went fishing this afternoon.

Those who leave tonight for the State Convention at Harrisburg are: County Treas. M. A. Myers, Geo. F. Yates, Jos. A. Schofield, C. C. Thompson, Hon. C. M. Shortt of Sugar Grove and Henry Feulhart of Tidoute

Lilly Dale is to have a great deal of beer. Two saloons with the privilege of Sunday selling have opened up on leased land where the association is powerless to interfere. Also Bije Wilcox has leased 60 acres of grove land and proposes opening the best kind of a beer garden. The association is in despair at the thought of the threatened desecration to the hitherto liquorless Dale.

—A later announcement said Wilcox was giving up his lease for lack of business.

Call at D. Shear's for the latest July Ladies' magazine, given away free.

Enoch Cleveland, who, according to his own story is a second cousin of the President of the United States applied at the Cleveland, Ohio infirmary for relief Friday. He was given only transportation home and that only as far as Erie. Enoch says his fat cousin is a disgrace to the family.

—some people are a bit hard to please.

STAMPS IN THE NEWS

FOLLOWING the example of the Fighting French and the Free Polish and Norwegian governments, Yugoslavia's government—in exile at London has issued its own stamps, which have just reached this country. The Yugoslavian stamps consist of a set of four values, two, three, five and ten dinars, each bearing the picture of King Peter II. The stamps commemorate the second anniversary of King Peter's reign and bear the dates "March 27, 1941-1943" across the top. The two dinars, illustrated here, is blue, the three a slate color, the five carmine and the 10 dinar is black.

ECUADOR has commemorated Vice President Wallace's good-will tour of Central and South America with six overprints of its 1938 constitutional issue. The 50 centavo and one and two sucre regular postal issues and the same values of airmails have been overprinted with the words: "Bienvenido—Wallace April 15-1943."

FROM England comes word of a pending issue by the Netherlands government for its Dutch West Indies possession of Curaçao. "Stamp Collecting," a London philatelic weekly, carries an illustration of the stamp, a one and one-half cent value, with the information that it is to be issued in June. Pictured on the stamp are the three generations of the Royal Netherlands family—Queen Wilhelmina, Prince Bernhard and Princess Juliana and their three children, the Princesses Beatrix, Irene and Margriet. The illustration obviously is a composite photograph in which the figure of Queen Wilhelmina has been inserted since Margriet was born at Ottawa, Canada, last January.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923

C. Webster, of Erie while walking uptown from the Carver House last Sunday lost his wallet containing $68. His automobile registration card was in the wallet.

Balltown boys visited Porkey on Sunday and picked the lock on the school house. They left notes and rang the bell. The bell ringing caused much consternation in the community.

Miss Mildred Deitch is playing the organ in Loews Theatre in New York and her work is bringing her some nice newspaper notices.

H. A. Lamprey is in Tionesta arranging with engineers for the survey of lands that are being taken over for the Allegheny National Forest. Mr. Lamprey is a title expert with the U. S. government.

In the schools of the state voting has been done toward the selection of a state flower. It is interesting to note that in this county 1365 voted for trailing arbutus while only 125 voted for the Mountain Laurel which was the flower selected.

In 1933

Robert Shine, 13½ year old Kinzua lad went fishing in the old swimmin' hole at Kinzua creek and landed a 19½ inch trout which weighed two pounds and three ounces.

L. Brainer Carlson of Warren has been voted as the most popular member of the senior class at Allegheny College. This is an honor showing the fine personality of the young chap.

Mrs. W. J. Knupp reports that the recent poppy sale of the American Legion Auxiliary was a great success and she extends thanks to the people of the fine support given.

The Warren Tank Car Company has recalled a few of its regular employees due to the fact that they have secured an order for five tank cars.

In announcing the birth of twins to Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Martin, of Russell, Dr. C. H. Vermilyea says that he has brought 36 pairs of twins into the world and one set of triplets during his 36 years of practice.

AMERICAN SWEET TOOTH The candy industry in normal times annually uses $27,000,000 worth of fruits and nuts, $15,000,000 worth of dairy products, and $150,000,000 worth of other agricultural products.

dent and manager opened the assembly with a welcome to all and a few words about the Anniversary Sale. Then he called on five young ladies, Mrs. Margaret Drivas, Mrs. Herbert Harris, Mrs. Nora Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Lindquist and Miss Margaret Paterson who were dressed in gay nineties costumes and sang "The Bells of St. Mary's." They were accompanied by Mrs. Jack on the piano. Mr. Wright then told about the high standards of the store and what it has become to mean in Warren. He called on Mr. Kottcamp, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce who was one of the guests of honor. Mr. Kottcamp in his usual pleasing manner spoke of his relationship with C. E. Metzger and W. W. Wright and how he had known the store and what it had meant to him since his coming to Warren in 1909.

After the business meeting Mr. Wright called on the members of the Honor Club for a few words. Those responding were Mrs. Myrta Dalrymple who became a member of the Honor Club in 1930, Miss Hattie Booth in 1931, L. C. LeVan, 1932, Clara Weidert 1933, Matilda Eckardt, 1935, Ruth Woodin, 1939, Owen Unangst, 1940, Katherine Blocher, 1941.

Telegrams of congratulations were read from three of the boys in the service, Sgt. Frederick Jury, Pfc. Lewis Sadler, and Pfc. Allan Johnson, the latter the Honor Club choice for 1942.

The assembly was appropriately closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and every one invited to the tea. During the meeting much fun was had over a contest in which two teams were chosen, one headed by Miss Ruth Woodin and the other by O. Q. Pressel with questions asked by Mrs. W. H. Wright pertaining to the year 1896. The head of the losing team, Miss Woodin, cut the large birthday cake at the tea following the meeting.

Mrs. W. W. Wright and Mrs. Myrta Dalrymple poured at a table decorated with lilac colored flowers and lilac candles.

Thursday is First Floor Day at the store with items from the first floor especially featured.

Cats and Dogs An' Auto Horns Keep Police Hopping 'Round

"Sailing ships and sailing wax-cabbages and kinds" may have kept the folk in years ago provided with entertainment but "Cats an' dogs an' auto horns" kept the police on the jump for a time last night. A sick cat on the veranda of a Cayuga avenue home took the coppers there. The cat was corralled and now its voice is added to catatonic choir.

Four dogs were rounded up yesterday. All but one bore a license tag and the owners have been notified to keep 'em tied. The one pup that looked like it was not a pure blooded scion of some house of pedigree will hear the report of an officers cannon.

Down near St. Joseph's church the horn on an automobile broke loose. Efforts to get into the car to halt the tooting were to no avail so the owner was located at the Struthers-Wells plant and he applied the silencer.

In between times the cops posted copies of city ordinances, finger printed five OGD workers and adjudicated the battle of two West End boys. Pure chivalry was pleaded as the defense of one fighter who averred the "other fellow had picked on a smaller boy".

A lecture on dire results that might follow a black eye or a pummeled nose was delivered with gusto and base tones.

About 8:30 a friendly sort of fellow who had loaned another fellow his coupe called and reported that the fellow had not returned the car as he had promised. An alarm was sent out to the State Police and finally the missing machine was located and taken to the parking lot back of the Police Station.

And while this was going on guards at various plants were checking in, the desk man had his ear tuned for air raid alarms, listened to a few fish stories and followed the news over the air.

Incentive Payment Plan Is Promoted By Struthers Wells

(By J. G. Mosherrosh in the Titusville Herald)

The introduction of "incentive payment" plans in war industries is being strongly advocated by the War Production Board and War Labor Board, with the following objectives in mind:

It is something that will put more money into the workers' pay envelopes, help combat the increased cost of living and at the same time stimulate the productivity of the worker in the production of war materials.

The War Production Board, under its newly constituted management-labor council, made up of the presidents of the CIO, the AFL, U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Manufacturers Association, has had this matter under consideration for some time, with a view of gaining the full cooperation of labor for the plan.

Professional labor unions, as a whole, in the past have been reluctant in adopting the idea, where piecework was to take the place of hourly pay rates exclusively, because labor felt that eventually they would work themselves out of a job under this speed-up system on account of over-production.

This contention, however, does not hold true today, when the country calls for an uninterrupted flow of war materials. The Russians, under the Stakhanov system—100 percent effective in all war factories—have geared up their war production in just this manner.

Premium payments are based on increased production above a standard unit rate of output. This unexcelled war effort on the home front has contributed in no small measure to their epochal successes on the fighting front.

As Washington is groping for a solution of the manpower shortage and as the need for greater output of war materials grew and labor's demand for higher wages likewise increased, proponents of incentive systems advanced these as ideally fitted to fill the bill in both counts.

The experience of workers and employers with incentive plans in this country and in Russia shows plainly that the nation has extensive resources of manpower lying idle for lack of a concrete plan to utilize them. An average increase of 25 percent—which is a constructive figure, actually realized in many plants—in the production rates of America's 17,500,000 war plant workers in 1943, for example, would be the equivalent of adding well over 4,000,000 workers or nearly the additional number estimated as needed in war industries this year. England also has had satisfactory results with the introduction of incentive systems in war factories. They are known as "payment by results" plans. Virtually the entire aircraft industry, for instance, operates on "payment by results".

The Government sponsors these plans.

In the United States a number of different types of incentive systems are in use today. One such system is the straight piece-work system displacing the hourly pay rates in its entirety. Another is the combination of the standard hourly pay supplemented by a premium payment for increased production above a standard unit base rate. This system is in vogue at the Struthers Wells plants and has produced good results with increased efficiency and is satisfactory to both the management and the workers. No premium is allowed on faulty or defective work that is rejected. This system has its advantages inasmuch as it guarantees the worker a secure income derived from his hourly pay and yet provides him with an incentive for greater productive effort.

Still another system is the profit-sharing plan whereby all employees—office and factory—participate in the net earnings of their company in proportion to their monthly or yearly basic pay. Most productive in this type of incentive plans are the records of some of the Cleveland rugged individualists like Jack and Heinz and the Lincoln Electric Corporation, whose employees are deriving exceptionally large incomes therefrom, running from $4,000 to $5,000 a year and up.

You May Never Have To Take Another Laxative

Most constipated people might be as regular as clock-work—if they would only quit worry—stop being nervous—take more exercise—watch their diet—and get up morning or hour or so earlier to give bowels time to act. But who can or wants to do all this?

So—the next best thing is to keep the bowels working as regularly and comfortably as we can—and that's where good old Espotabs come in. Why?

Because you may take Espotabs at night and expect results in the morning when you get up without waiting around—because they do not move the bowels so violently as to leave you feeling weak and washed-out.

AND because they help give the grand, comfortable, satisfying type of movement that makes the spirits soar—and what sour, constipated person could ask for more? Get Espotabs at your druggist today and take as directed.

Mrs. Cooney Chosen Legion Auxiliary Is As Grand Regent Of Planning Observance Of "Dedication Day"

Court Warren, No. 884, Catholic Daughters of America, held its regular meeting last evening at 7:30 in the K. of C. clubrooms, with Mrs. W. E. Cooney, grand regent, in charge.

During the early part of the meeting, officers were elected for the coming year, to take their offices in June. From the slate, the following were re-elected to office:

Mrs. Cooney, grand regent; Mrs. George Cunningham, prophetess; Miss Mary Mills, treasurer; Miss Kathleen Simmons, sentinel; Mrs. Paul McCarty, organist. Others named at this time were: Mrs. George Betts, vice regent; Miss Rita Retzer, historian; Mrs. Nell Randall, secretary; Mrs. Jacob Heach, monitor; Mrs. Albert Schwartz, lecturer; Mrs. H. H. Crosby, Mrs. G. B. Monroe, Miss Henrietta Wehner and Mrs. Lydia Fox, trustees.

At last night's meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, a proclamation was read in which the state president, Mrs. Archie Miller, called upon all units to set aside Thursday, May 20, as "dedication day" and to arrange to call together the women folk of men in World War II.

Conforming with this request, it was voted to hold a reception and tea for wives, mothers and sisters of men now in service, the affair to be held at the Legion Home on the afternoon of that day. Further details regarding plans will be worked out and announced later in these columns.

About 60 members of the Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary gathered in the Legion Home last evening for a Mother's Day dinner and program.

Tables were decorated with daffodils and yellow candles; a corsage of daffodils at each adult member's place. The following Juniors took part in the program: Carol Proud, reading; Elizabeth Dunham, piano solo; Jean Seaman, vocal solo, accompanied by Dorothy Munksgard; toast to mothers, Patty Storum; reading, Joanne Chester.

The Juniors then met with Mrs. Claire Proud for a short business session.

At the senior auxiliary session, in charge of Mrs. Elmer Munksgard, many activities were discussed. It was voted to purchase a wheel chair for use at the Warren General Hospital and to make a gift of $50.00 to the Hoffman Children's Home for the purchase of some article needed for their playground.

Mrs. Harry Nelson, poppy chairman, told of plans made for "Poppy Day," Saturday, May 29. The proceeds from this sale will be used for Legion Auxiliary relief work to the coming year.

It was decided to serve a Memorial Day dinner to the Legion delegation taking part in the parade; also to serve a luncheon to those selling poppies.

Mrs. Munksgard requested that members meet on Tuesday evenings at Red Cross headquarters to do surgical dressings, as the need is urgent.

JENKINS-ANDERSON WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Announcement is made today of the marriage of Dorothy Lucille Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Anderson, of Warren, and Robert A. Jenkins, seaman second class, son of Mrs. Rodelphia Jenkins, of Sheffield.

The ceremony took place Wednesday evening, May 5, at seven o'clock at the home of Dr. H. A. Rindard, Market street. Attendants were Mrs. Roger Mahaffey, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. Mahaffey, of Warren. The bride was attractively attired in a navy suit with blue and white accessories and corsage of yellow roses. The matron of honor wore navy also, with light blue accessories and a red rose corsage.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, with 40 guests. After a short wedding trip, Mrs. Jenkins accompanied her husband as far as Buffalo on his return to the training center at Sampson, N. Y. She will reside here and continue her employment.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS GIVE LADIES' DINNER

Warren Chapter, No. 563, United Commercial Travelers, entertained their ladies with a 6:30 o'clock turkey dinner on Saturday evening in the IOOF hall on Hickory street. More than 100 dinners were prepared by Delbert Lewis, caterer, and Harold Ross and his committee handled serving very ably.

L. E. Seavy, as master of ceremonies, handled the dance which followed dinner, presenting the old familiar, including the Paul Jones. Music was by the E-J Dance Band of Youngsville, talented group of young men. Those who did not participate in the dancing enjoyed cards in the latter part of the evening.

REBEKAH PARTY AND LODGE SESSION

The Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge invites the public to the dessert-card party to be held in the social rooms on Hickory street at 1:30 p. m. Friday. There will be prizes for winners in both bridge and five hundred.

The regular supper for members will be served at six o'clock and lodge will convene at eight in the evening. There was a small turnout for Red Cross sewing last week and members are urged to respond in greater numbers for the next work period.

Pleasing Recital At The Russell Studios

Despite unpleasant weather conditions, a fine audience gathered in the Russell Piano Studios at 205 Pennsylvania avenue, east, last evening for the May recital played by the students.

These recitals, held monthly throughout the season, have proved a real help to the young players. Their musical memory is thus strengthened and poise and freedom at the keyboard are acquired. Their program was well chosen and well performed. Variety was provided in two-piano numbers, a Shoemaker's Dance done by a group of girls in costume and a rhythm orchestra number.

Miss Lillian Ristau, soprano, and Miss Mary Sigworth, contralto, both pupils of Mrs. Betty Smith's studio, sang a group of songs in a pleasing and finished manner. A cornet solo by Clyde Beebe, accompanied by Maxine Beebe, and a baritone horn solo by Donald Gibson, accompanied by Patty Gibson, were greatly enjoyed and added much to the evening's performance.

NAME IS OMITTED IN RECITAL ACCOUNT

Through a typographical error the name of Miss Betty Mason, township supervisor of public school music, was omitted from last night's account of those taking part in the Elizabeth Naylor studio recital at the YWCA.

Social Events

DAR MEETING

Several important business items, including election of officers, will come before members of the General Joseph Warren Chapter, DAR, at their June meeting at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the YWCA. The business session will be followed by an exhibit of antiques and tea served by Mrs. C. A. Struble and her committee. The chapter's governing board will meet at two o'clock at the activities building.

SHIREY-SUTTON MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Sutton, of Torpedo, announce the marriage of their daughter, Gertrude Virginia, to David S. Shirey, of Steelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shirey, of Turkey City.

Mrs. Sutton has just returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Shirey, who is employed at the Glenn Martin Aircraft plant at Baltimore, Md.

FAMILY PARTY FOR DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Yeager, Conewango avenue, are giving a family dinner party at the Hotel Carver this evening to mark the 15th birthday anniversary of their son, William, Jr., which is May 12, and the 85th anniversary of Mrs. Yeager's father, W. H. Houghtling, Jackson avenue, whose birth date is May 15.

Personal Paragraphs

Mrs. Grace Miller and Mrs. Frances Cederquist, Prospect street, have returned from Franklin where they spent Mother's Day with their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cederquist, and their small granddaughter, Grace Frances.

Miss Betty Jane Loney, Warren RD 3, returned Monday evening after two weeks spent in Goldsboro, N. C., where she was the guest of her fiancé, Pfc. Gail Geer, stationed at Seymour Johnson Field.

Word was received here this morning that Mrs. H. A. Rindard, Market street, is recovering satisfactorily following an operation performed in the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C.

Miss Catherine Henderson, member of the Warren Public Library staff, is recuperating at her home on Water street following an operation performed in the Huron Road Hospital, East Cleveland, O.

Mrs. Elizabeth Naylor, accompanied by the Misses Meredyth and Grace Young, left Tuesday for a few days' visit in New York City.

this morning for Pittsburgh to attend the war emergency conference of the State Funeral Directors' Association, being held there yesterday and today.

John Cochran, of Sheffield, has accepted the chairmanship of the oil division of the salvage committee. He is an experienced oil man and is familiar with the county oil fields and will doubtless speed up the drive for oil lease scrap.

Assemblyman W. W. Muir is home after attending the session of the legislature and he pays high tribute to Gov. Edward Martin. He says "Gov. Martin has grown in stature and esteem among the people of the state by his conduct of the legislative session. He asked us for a short session that would be devoted to aiding the Commonwealth in its all-out war work and I am glad to report that the session which just closed has carried out his wishes to the fullest."

WAACS Get Another Girl From Borough

According to a special dispatch received today from the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps recruiting office in Erie, Miss Kathryn Gafner, 312 Park street, is the latest from Warren to be sworn into this branch of the country's services.

Lt. Gladys C. Hendrickson administered the oath at the WAAC office in Erie on May 8.

Miss Gafner has lived all her life in Warren, is a graduate of the local high school and is now employed by the New Process Company.

She will continue the civilian defense activities in which she has been taking part until called for active service with the WAAC. During the month of March she was Red Cross blood donor and has also spent more than 100 hours making surgical dressings for the Red Cross.

The squirrel family gets its name from the Latin word sciurus, which means shade-tailed.

play a double-header in Erie on Sunday, May 30th.

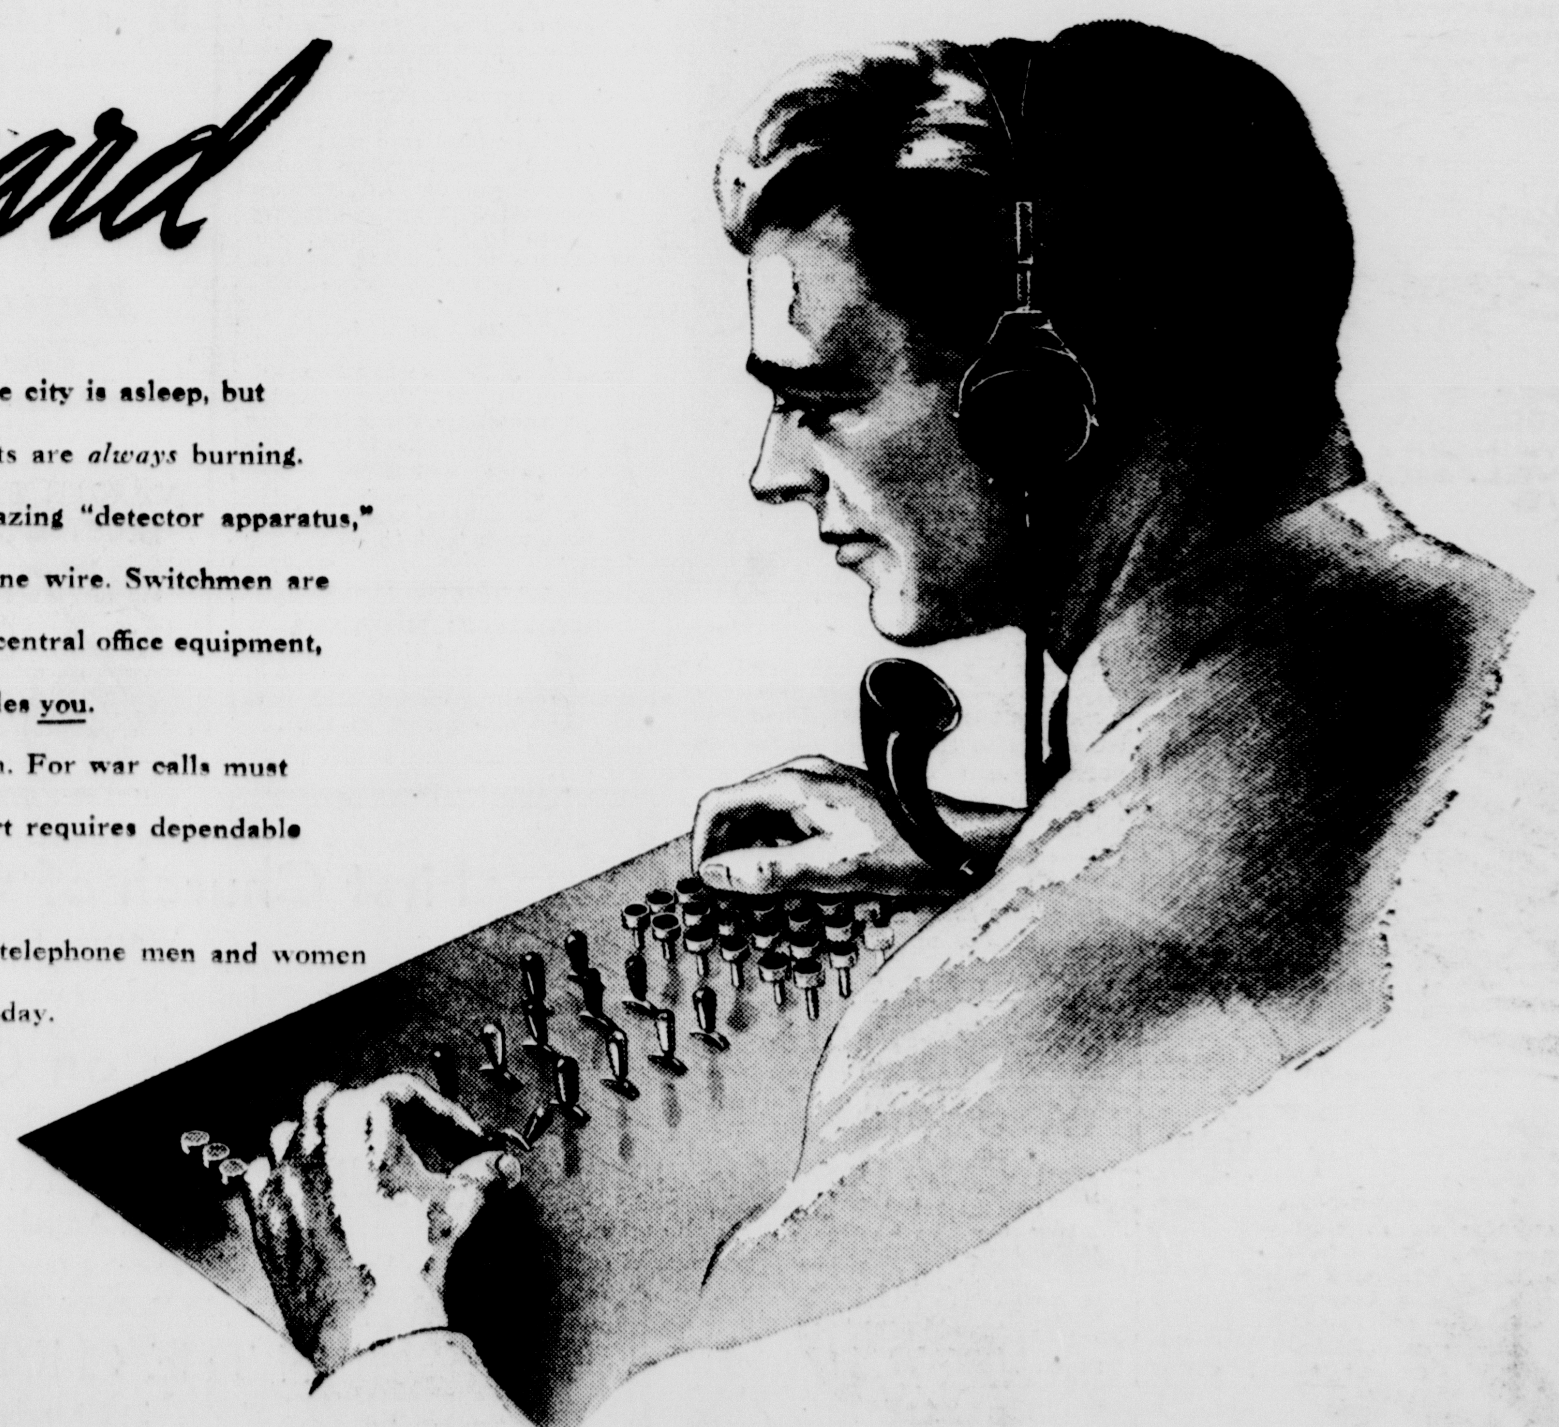

The first practice session will be held Monday evening and all prospective players are urged to be on hand.

On Guard

It's two in the morning. Most of the city is asleep, but in the telephone central office, lights are always burning. Test men, working with their amazing "detector apparatus," are checking every mile of telephone wire. Switchmen are busy inspecting all the complicated central office equipment, "looking for trouble" before it troubles you.

Day and night this work goes on. For war calls must go through and the whole war effort requires dependable telephone service.

Never has the work of trained telephone men and women been so vital to America as it is today.

Annual Bowlers' Night Tops Most Successful Season For Elk Keglers Tuesday Evening

The Texas Lunch team of the Elk League, stacked with the largest share of the sons of Erin, had their night last night at the local club when the annual "Bowlers' night" was dedicated to the most enjoyable nights for the bowlers ever held topped off the season's kegling and brought it to a close.

Taking care of the speaking assignments for the most part, following Peter Fanaritis' acknowledgment for his winning team, Barney Malone, Russell McLean, James Moran helped add to the event; plus presentation of awards to the remaining members of the aggregate including Sam Gerardi, Tony Panos, Gene Fraring, William Hoagvall and H. M. Miller.

Following the gathering of the some-odd 160 bowlers in the formal meeting room of the Elk League, the officers took place with Myron Check unanimously elected for second term as president of the Bowling Committee, Donald McComas, vice president, Daniel Dorsey, secretary and Barney Malone, treasurer.

Harold Baker, former exalted ruler, acted as toastmaster, with a meticulous handling of introductions. After the members of the winning team were called upon, Myron Check, two-time president, talked for a short time on the success of the year's bowling and announced a few plans for next season.

Several other awards were presented to the following: Kirk Dorrance, for 23 years of bowling without missing a year; Franklin Riggs, for his top score of 722; Bill Simonsen for his high single game of 268 and Myron Check for high average of 190 for the season.

Pete Ostergard, Al Alabaugh and Fred Weigle, trustees of the organization, followed in order and pledged all possible help to the bowlers for next year. Also, several inter-quorum remarks were given by Clyde Knapp and Addison White to finish the speaking for the evening, and added a dash of mirth to the meeting.

A well-handled floor show was next on the program and furnished the bowlers with some interesting moments with skating acts, dancing and singing featuring the attractions, topping off the evening and ending the year of bowling for 1943 at the Elk Club.

STRIKES TO SPARE!

The Central Grocery of the Moose League needed three points to get into the roll-offs and that's just what they went after and "got". Pete Juliano and Walt Driscoll came through as the big guns for the night and deserve plenty of credit for their smashing 576 and 581, respectively. Jim Schuler, still going like a house on fire, came in with 223-581 for his lowing East Side Restaurant outfit, but it wasn't quite enough to hold down the Grocers as the Centrals copped total by 4 pins.

Adam's Market had an easy win by the forfeit route, over the Soda Miners and took it easy on the maples to come through with 2280 total.

Three Weeks of Season Still Doesn't Show Strength First Predicted In Either League

Associated Press Sports Writer

The major league season is three weeks old, but there is an evident widespread feeling that the games played thus far have proved very little about the ultimate strength of the various teams.

Two teams in each loop—the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals in the National, and the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians in the American—have established themselves as permanent possibilities. But they were rated as such before the season started and nothing they have done in their early games has been particularly distinguishing.

For this reason the start of East-West play today in the two circuits was looked forward to

NIMRODS TO BE FEWER IN PA. ---GORDON

Harrisburg, May 12—(P)—Executive Director Seth Gordon of the State Game Commission predicts that this year's army of hunters will be considerably smaller than the 648,000 who took to Pennsylvania woods and fields in 1942.

"Still more men have gone into the armed forces and more are working long hours in defense plants," Gordon said.

Delay in fixing hunting season dates and bag limits, because the commission lacks a quorum, will not present a problem, the director said.

"Last year the seasons were set April 30 because of the uncertainty of war conditions although the usual practice has been to wait until July," he recalled.

A commission meeting to act on hunting dates was called for Thursday, then cancelled because of the automatic retirement of five of the eight commissioners with the legislature's adjournment.

Phillies May End Up Better With "Danny"

By TED MAIER

Philadelphia, May 12—(P)—Danny Litwiler, the "freshman wonder" who slumped as a "sophomore" outfielder with the Phillies last year, again is pounding the horseshoe at better than a .300 clip.

The 27-year-old outfielder from Ringtown, Pa., is one of the five top clouters in the National League with a .340 average which is just one more reason why the club may be lifting itself into the sunlight of the first division.

"I just feel good up there," commented Danny, who has connected for three homers and driven in 11 runs so far. His first year with the Phillies he set a major league record by playing errorless ball in 151 games, batting .350 at the time. His batting mark slipped to .271 in 1942.

Squarepants Starts 1943 Earlier ---Ott

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, May 12—(P)—Despite the war, the New York Giants have found enough wire to bind together the creaking left arm of Carl Owen Hubbell and "old square pants" will open his sixteenth major league campaign today.

Hubbell, whose 40th birthday is June 22, will be trying for his 250th victory—a goal both Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox and Charles Ruffing of the New York Yankees reached last summer. Both are now in the armed forces and if Hubbell makes the grade today he will be the only active major league twirler with that record.

The southpaw has been kept on the bench until warm weather in recent years but the Giants of today are doing so poorly that Manager Mel Ott, in deepest desperation, is starting the real ticket against the Chicago Cubs.

HOPE AND CROSBY TO DUFF IN BENEFIT

Llanerch, Pa., May 12—(P)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Big Ed Dickey will be paired with a couple of other golfers at Llanerch Country club May 21.

The others: Bob Hope and Bing Crosby. The movie pair—each of which plays in the 70's or low 80's—will take part in an 18-hole exhibition match for the benefit of the navy league service.

End of Air Battle Over Tunisia Near

(From Page One)

Giraud's French North African army in the region east of Zaghouan, and on the south by a British Eighth Army and French force north of Enfidaville.

The British First Army column in reaching Bou Fichta from the north was within five miles of a junction along the coast with the British Eighth Army coming up from the south.

Just south of Bou Fichta, however, the First Army ran into lively resistance from a formation of German tanks and a screen of anti-tank guns which temporarily held it up.

East of Zaghouan, the French also met resistance after accepting the unconditional surrender of a large enemy force in the Zaghouan mountains.

Eighth Army units found a similar situation on their front, but pressed forward gradually, taking some prisoners.

The enemy elements which surrendered to the French in the Zaghouan area were various remnants, the biggest one being a large part of the Italian supergas division, which were grouped together in the current battle under German command and given the name of the Pfeiffer group.

A Berlin broadcast by the propaganda agency, International Information Bureau, said "the position of German-Italian troops on Cap Bon peninsula is hopeless." The broadcast was recorded in London by the Associated Press.

Hitler Girds For "Battle of Germany"

(From Page One)

Germany and her partners are striving.

There was no immediate elaboration either on Hitler's sudden return from the eastern front or the Berlin radio's reference to the Atlantic wall, but it seemed clear that Hitler would take a personal hand in preparations for the next Allied blow.

The Axis itself termed the next phase in the global war "the battle for Germany."

The Axis-controlled Danish radio, in a pep talk dealing with difficulties facing an Allied invasion of Hitler's European fortress, said yesterday: "This battle for Germany is about to begin. The situation is unique in the history of war."

But even as Axis propaganda built up this picture of calmness and confidence, Berlin dispatches the neutral Switzerland told of lowered weekly allowances in food in Germany; of rising unrest and the highest pitch of hope in occupied countries since the war began; and German retaliation already under way in Holland.

Trouble in Holland was foreshadowed in a German-controlled Dutch newspaper which was quoted as saying that "agitation has turned into unreasonable unrest, which has already assumed a dangerous and intolerable form." One continental dispatch told of the execution of 26 Dutch patriots on May 2 and the imposition of the death sentence on 10 others.

Here in a cemetery ringed by the djebels of Tunisia lie scores of soldiers of Germany who died on a battlefield near Gabes—a thousand miles from their native land. One of these is Werner Hass, but he must rest uneasy, for on the helmet-topped cross that symbolizes his Christian burial there is marked the hated swastika.

Camp Potato Points Way For Growing of Better Spuds

Camp Potato in Potter county owned and operated by potato growers among who are many from Warren county has a busy season ahead. Another caretaker, William Tuttle, and his wife are in charge this year and their quarters have been renovated and put in fine shape. Everything is ready for members of the Potato Growers Association and their guests to enjoy. Ben Bailey, of State College has been engaged to take care of the field and machine operations.

Camp Potato perches high on a Potter county hill top and comprises a good sized farm with buildings erected from lumber secured from the Laurel Mill CCC camp near Ridgway. This lumber was hauled to and erected at the camp by club members. At the Camp Potato farms various species and growing methods are tried and tested and their potentialities made known to Club members.

Due to inclement weather and general pressing business it has been impossible to classify, record and grade seedlings in storage. This, however, will be done in good time before the planting season. The plan is to plant sixty acres, the majority of which will be planted to the most promising seedlings such as the Poconos, Allegheny Mountains, and Nittanias. All machinery owned by the association, namely, plows, discs, 2 row planter, 2 tractor tractors, 10 row bean sprayer, cultivators and graders, are all ready for the production program. The acreage planned is 50% over last year's effort and will keep everybody busy.

Early in June Camp Potato will be officially opened with a general invitation to all growers to participate. There is some talk of holding a production and machinery school for interested young men under the direction and supervision of the association. Outstanding instructors will be available. A cooperative arrangement between Potter County School authorities and the association is being proposed. It looks as though the industry will profit materially in such an arrangement from the long time point of view.

Warren county growers are meeting with difficulty in getting their potato lands in shape due to the rains that have made preparation of soil for planting difficult. Yesterday one Warren county farmer gave it as his opinion that about half of the potatoes that are in the ground for the early crop have rotted. This will entail a heavy loss as the seed this spring has been expensive and difficult to secure. However in this county through the cooperative arrangement of the growers seed has been secured at a fair price.

Unless the weather soon clears the crop of early potatoes in this county will be small and the price high while the late potatoes will be planted only with difficulty and a long wet summer season will affect the crop in an adverse way. At a time when the government is urging farmers to greater production of all crops it is unfortunate that growers should be handicapped by the weather.

Potato growing in this county is reaching a point where it is one of the farmers real money crops and more and more farmers are turning to potato growing.

Mask Drill Planned For OCD Workers

At 7:30 p. m. Friday in the YMCA building, Lt. Victor Vermilyea, senior gas officer for Warren county's Civilian Defense Corps, will hold his first gas mask drill for OCD personnel.

This first unit will be comprised of the decontamination squad, public works squad and the laundry personnel. Other groups will follow until all defense corps workers have had this very necessary instruction.

The gas officer stated today that it is planned to instruct all defense workers in the use of the gas mask, concluding the period with a demonstration in which all will be given an opportunity for actual contact with gas of a chemical warfare nature. Work of erecting a gas chamber will be started soon and its location announced.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngville, May 11—In the United Brethren church Sunday, Mother's Day was remembered in the service, the pastor Rev. Chas. McIntyre giving an inspirational message on the theme, "The Greatest Mothers".

In the Methodist church family life was emphasized with praise for devoted mothers and fathers. Mrs. R. H. Knapp as a director of the Sheffield Children's Home spoke in behalf of that institution which has been a mother to many children who have lost their natural mother early in life. She stressed the present effort being made to pay before Founders Day the debt of the Home. "Ave Marie" was played as a violin solo by David Wingard.

In the Free Methodist church announcement was made of the coming General Quarterly meeting of the District to be held in the local church beginning Thursday May 13th and extending through Sunday May 16th.

Thanks, Friends!

As this paper goes to press, the opening day of our 47th Anniversary Sale is in its final hours. To be sure, we do not know what the final results will be—the dollars-and-cents comparison with last year. But we do know that the opening day has been a complete success.

We do know that our friends have come from all parts of northwestern Pennsylvania (in spite of gasoline restrictions); that our aisles have been filled since opening time this morning; that merchandise has been bought in quantities exceeding our expectations, yet not in extravagant proportions.

Two points we have stressed in our Anniversary publicity: that merchandise be bought wisely and thriftily; and that Quality be the prime consideration. Our customers, we are glad to say, have generally followed this policy. We shall continue to emphasize it throughout the Sale and throughout the year.

Many of those who were here today have not missed the opening of a Metzger-Wright Anniversary Sale in many years. A few were here for that first far-away opening in 1896. Many were here for our tenth Anniversary. More for our twentieth, our thirtieth, our fortieth.

We are proud to be part of the community of Warren and of this section of the State. We are proud of the loyalty of our friends. We are proud of the honorable principles which motivated the birth of this enterprise and still motivate it today. And, again we say . . .

THANKS, FRIENDS!

Chapter 4
PENNY stepped through the hatch of the big bi-motored plane for her first close-up of a northern frontier trading post. They'd arrived safely at Hudson's Hope.

Immaculate in a gray business suit, Powell preceded her. Cleve, in an old slouch hat and slacks, trailed along behind.

"I'll look after the luggage," he called. "Meet you at the hotel in a few minutes."

Penny wasn't listening. The marvelous view of river, mountains and canyon held her attention. Below them, in its cut-deep valley, was the mighty Peace. Across on the far side, sweeping up the slope and off to the horizon, she could see the massed green of spruce and jack-pine.

Stark wilderness everywhere around her. It was breathtaking, mysterious and—and a little frightening, too. Somewhere in this rugged land fate had dumped Bill.

She said to Powell, "Well, what do you think of it?"

He paused to take her arm. "It looks a bit bleak," he said. "I'm afraid the accommodations won't be any too good."

Penny laughed. Powell was referring to the town and the hotel. The impact of the country itself had escaped him. He'd completely overlooked the gorgeous setting for this rocky, lonely spot.

He hadn't even seen the three Indian teepees down there on the first bench of the river.

"I think it's wonderful," Penny said, breathing deeply. "Air tangy with pine. Everything new and clean and primitive."

THE hotel was called Baird's Stopping Place. Men in top hats clanked through the door. On the rough board walk outside were small groups of trappers and prospectors with hoary heads and time-grooved faces, half-breeds and Indians.

Everyone stared at Penny. She went in with Powell to register, looking curiously around. Fire crackled in the great hearth at one end of the high-beamed room. There were shaggy skins on the rough-hewn floor, antlered heads on the walls.

Chapter 5
PENNY started at her fiance incredulously.

"Powell," she said, "you don't mean we're just going to sit around here doing nothing for two whole weeks while my brother—while Bill—"

"Penny darling you don't understand." He rose patiently and came over to pat her shoulder.

"No telling what lies between here and the half-breed's shack where your brother is. A hundred civilized miles, well—naturally that would be quite another matter. But this is wild, even dangerous country."

"If it's dangerous country," Penny burst out, "then we ought to get Bill out of it as soon as possible!"

"That isn't what I meant," Powell frowned. "It's simply that traveling over unfamiliar, rough terrain would be foolhardy. When Constable Rennick returns, he'll have all the facts about the plane crash. He'll know how to get to where Bill is. He'll advise us."

Penny's chin began to tremble. "But in the meantime," she choked, "maybe Bill—"

"If Bill were in serious condition," said Powell, "he would certainly have said so in his letter."

"Not Bill!" wailed Penny. "He's the enduring-in-silence kind. He loathes sympathy. Once he had a raging toothache for days and nobody knew a thing about it until his face swelled up like a cabbage."

Powell drew her tenderly into his arms.

"Poor little Penny," he said. "You're tired, dear. After a good dinner and a sleep in this bracing climate, you'll feel more like your usual self." He kissed her mouth.

THERE was a knock at the door and Cleve came in. He was excited. He scooped up the male-mute pup which came rolling into his feet.

"Guess what?"

Penny and Powell shook their heads.

"What a country!" Cleve exclaimed hilariously. "The whole damned settlement is an uproar. A glorious old-time tumult!"

"But why?" asked Penny.

"What are we going to do first?" she asked. "Look up the mounted policeman?"

Her fiance nodded.

Mr. Baird, the proprietor, came forward to meet them. Baird wore a dark woolen shirt, open at the throat, and a pair of moccasins. When he walked, his feet seemed to whisper.

He shook hands with them. He said, "Did you bring your bedrolls?"

Powell stared. "Certainly not!"

"I think I can provide sheets and blankets for the young lady, and a room for her," He smiled at Penny.

Powell bristled. "But what about Mr. Rockwell, my assistant and myself?" he asked. "We'll want separate rooms, of course."

Baird shook his head. "In this country," he said, "everyone brings his own bedroll and bunks on the floor."

Powell choked. He looked at Penny. Then he yanked at his tie. "I didn't know what we were getting into."

"I'll be fun to rough it!" Penny glanced about her approvingly. "Don't you see, Powell, it will be like camping out."

"I don't mind camping out," Powell said. "What I object to is camping in."

Penny burst out laughing. He joined her ruefully.

"How long are you planning to stay?" asked Mr. Baird.

"A week or two, I imagine," answered Powell.

He was getting over his huff and, like Penny, catching some of the adventure of this experience. He squeezed her arm.

"We'll manage somehow," Then, to Baird: "Do the best you can for us. I won't spare any expenses."

Behind them something thumped loudly on the floor. It was Cleve with their luggage, camera and equipment, and Penny's first-aid kit and box of goodies for Bill. Cleve had hired two half-breeds to fetch it all down here. He was grinning and holding a fluffy ball in his arms.

"See what I picked up," he said. "A malamute pup."

Penny shouted delightedly. "A real husky! Oh, look, Powell, isn't he cute?"

"He's almost pure wolf," Cleve said. "Look at his pointed ears, his thick coat. He's all yours."

"Over at a place called Dead Stick Creek someone found some gold nuggets and, holy heaven, all the trappers and prospectors are racing like mad to get in on the strike."

"That so?" Powell Ward's blue eyes brightened with genuine interest. "I didn't know they still did that sort of thing up here."

Cleve shrugged. "This country's lousy with wealth—gold, silver, magnesium, oil. It's North America's last frontier—the land of tomorrow."

Penny said, "It's thrilling!"

"You bet!" said Cleve. "After the war there's going to be such a rush of settlers into this land as hasn't been seen for decades—mark my words."

Powell caught some of his enthusiasm. "If this strike at Dead Stick Creek turned out to be a big strike, I might like to invest some money in it myself. How about it, Cleve? Think there might be some profit interest in it, too, possible?"

"Might."

"We might investigate," said Powell.

"Bill! What about Bill?" cried Penny. "You're not actually thinking of going over to Dead Stick Creek instead of finding Bill, are you?"

"That's right," Cleve said soberly. "We've got Bill to consider first. I've been doing some inquiring around about the crash and this Pierre le Frene's shack."

POWELL strode to the window, then came back. "You think we ought to leave here before Constable Rennick returns?"

"Man it may be two weeks!"

"Yes, but if the trip took quite a while, the mounty might be off again somewhere else before we got back to the post. I'm very anxious to question him about those films."

Cleve said, "That's a chance we have to take, all right."

Powell was silent. Then he nodded. "But we can't for Bill personally. I don't think he's seriously injured but—"

"You mean you'll go?" Penny cried. "Oh, Powell, you darling!"

She flung her arms about his neck. "I knew you would—I just knew it!"
